Class Harvest Festival

Today in Class 2, we ventured into Gruff Land to collect fallen leaves in order to create hedgehog and squirrel collages. We then created vegetable collages using different textured paper. The children really enjoyed creating the collages and experimenting with different materials and colours. We also talked about how our food is grown, harvested and distributed. Together, we created our own Harvest display with all of the generous donations and amazing art work produced.

Anya Acres - Author Visit

Today the children were surprised with a virtual visit from Anya Acres the author of 'Ollie Discovers the Planets'. The children enjoyed hearing the story read to them by Anya and we also got some top tips on how to become brilliant authors. Luckily, last week we had been learning all about question sentences and so we were able to come up with lots of questions for Anya, which she kindly answered.

Homework

Homework for this week is Literacy based. I would like the children to recap what a noun, adjective and a verb is. I have also set an activity on expanded noun phrases. All the activities can be found on Education City. If you have any problems completing the homework or logging in, please send me an email.
